18. Cycle tour, Cuba

CycleActive is one of the original pioneers of the cycle holiday experience, and this 15-day tour of Cuba has been carefully researched to combine beautiful rides with minimal vehicle transfers, while offering time to mix with the locals and discover the island's fascinating culture.

The combination of a qualified British guide and a local expert guide means extra safety, flexibility and an insight into local life. The tour takes in Havana, Trinidad, the rainforests of the Escambray mountains, Soroa, La Guira National Park and the beautiful northern coast. Vehicle support and two highly qualified cycling guides ensure that you get to cycle as much or as little as you like. The cost, from £1,650, includes transfers, hotel accommodation, most meals, guide, support vehicle and all national park entry fees, but not flights.
